THE POLICE ROASTED

By Mr. Quinn Last Night at Chapline Street M. E. Church.

GAMBLING EVIL CAN BE SUPPRESSED

By the Police Authorities Without any Difficulty—If the Police Will Not Act There Is Another Way to Root Out the Evil—Co-partnerships Between Police and Gamblers Suggested.

The third lecture in this city by John Phillip Quinn, the reformed gambler, was delivered last night at the Chapline Street M. E. church, on the South Side. The church was crowded, not a vacant seat being obtainable when Mr. Quinn commenced his talk at eight o'clock.

The subject matter of last night's talk did not differ materially from those delivered on Monday and Tuesday evenings, except that he gave some attention to the laws of West Virginia in regard to gambling and its suppression.

"The law of your state," said Mr. Quinn, "regarding gambling is all right. It provides a penalty of imprisonment from two to twelve months, large fines, and that all gambling instruments and devices shall be burned. No law could more completely cover the subject."

"Citizens, do you know how to suppress this monstrous evil without the aid of your city police? Why, all that is necessary is for you to have a constable go with you, and you can batter down the doors and confiscate the implements in every gambling den in the city. This mode of procedure has been employed successfully in Chicago and other cities and can be employed here just as well."

"Wherever there is gambling going on unmolested by the police, there is a co-partnership between the latter and the gamblers; I don't care where it is, here or elsewhere. Either complicity or negligence exists. After hearing the law of your state read, do you think the police are powerless to suppress the gambling evil? Of course not. The trouble is the police authorities fail to see the gambling dens."

The speaker then recounted his experience with the police in Chicago and St. Louis during his twenty-five years experience as a gambler. In that time, he said, he had only on one or two occasions attempted to run a gambling house without first securing the "protection" of the police, and that he had always first ascertained how much this protection would cost. On two occasions he had paid the money personally to the authorities. When this protection is secured, the gambler is always notified in advance when a raid is to be made on him, giving him opportunity to hide from view all evidences of the character of the house. On one occasion he had attempted to run a house in St. Louis without this protection and it was not long until his place was broken into by the police with sledge hammers and destroyed.

"If gambling is going on unmolested in a city, there is invariably a weak spot somewhere, and a dark one at that. It is said the evil cannot be stopped or suppressed. What a commentary is this on Christianity? I say it can be stopped if the authorities want to stop it. Why, then, is it not stopped? This silver dollar," holding one in his hand, "does the work."

The police will make raids on the petty gamblers, like the poor crap shooter or the Chinaman, but nothing is done to the big fellows, who walk your streets unmolested as long as they pay their monthly instalments.

Mr. Quinn will conclude his anti-gambling lectures here this evening at the Thomson M. E. church, Island.

THE STREET CAR STRIKE.

There Were No Incidents of a Law-Breaking Character Yesterday.

The street car strike is in a state of incoherent desuetude, so far as furnishing newsy happenings is concerned. For the past two weeks matters have been unusually quiet along the line of the road, and for the past three days there has been almost nothing to chronicle, except the steadily increasing traffic. If the patronage continues to increase in the present ratio, the road will soon be again on a paying basis.

One noticeable feature is the fact that working people in considerable numbers are riding on the cars again, notwithstanding the fines to which they are liable by their action.

A CONFERENCE

Will be Held Between the Carpenters' Union and the Builders.

There will within the next few days be held a conference between a committee of the carpenters' and joiners' union of the city and the builders, at which efforts will be made to settle the existing differences between them. If nothing results from this conference, the threatened strike seems inevitable. The carpenters will, it is said, hold out for an increase in wages. The original demand is for a twenty per cent increase.

A Small Sized Strike.

Dubois & McCoy, the Bellaire planing mill men and contractors, have a strike on their hands, affecting ten or fifteen of their employees. Charles Fisher, of this city, was employed by the firm as boss carpenter and on Tuesday took charge, but as he is not a union man, the other carpenters kicked, and refused to work under him. They quit yesterday. The difficulty will, it is said, be speedily settled.

NOTES ON NAVIGATION.

State of Water and Movements of Boats.

The River Interests.

The marks on the wharf show 21 feet 4 in. in the channel and falling.

All of the packets were more or less tardy yesterday by reason of the high wind that has prevailed on the river the past few days.

Captain James McDonald, a former well known steamboatman, has retired from the river and is taking it easy at his home in Wheeling. He was in the service of the Gray Iron line for a number of years.—Pittsburgh Commercial Gazette.

To-morrow the C. W. Batchelor will leave Pittsburgh in place of the Scotia, for Cincinnati. The latter packet will make the trip for the Andes, on next Tuesday, to Cincinnati, while that boat is making repairs at Pittsburgh, necessitated by the collision with the Bellaire bridge.

Yesterday's arrivals and departures were: Lizzie Day, for Charleston, 6 a. m.; Ben Hur, for Parkersburg, 11:30 a. m.; C. W. Batchelor and Scotia, for Pittsburgh, at 2 p. m. The packets today will be the Iron Queen, for Pittsburgh, 8 a. m.; Hudson, for Cincinnati, 8 a. m.; H. K. Bedford, for Pittsburgh, 8 a. m.; Courier, for Parkersburg, 11:30 a. m.

THE SPEAS CASE.

The State Making Good Progress—Testimony of the Experts.

The interest in the Speas murder case, at Wellsburg, is increasing, judging from the large audience that was assembled in the court room before nine o'clock yesterday.

The state is making fair progress with the case, and the evidence reveals a shocking case of depravity. The so-called spots have been proven to have been bruises, as the large spot near the pelvic bone was cut into during the post mortem. Dr. Johnson was recalled yesterday morning and testified emphatically that the so-called spot was a bruise. He is supported in his testimony by Dr. Walkinshaw, who was on the stand about three hours. Most of his questions were hypothetical, dwelling on the results and indications of brain and nervous diseases. The cross examination on the manner of holding the post mortem was very severe, the defense endeavoring to prove that the post mortem was not thorough, and conducted only far enough to establish the theory of the coroner and his assistant.

Dr. Walkinshaw's testimony closes the expert testimony until the side of the defense comes up. The state is now prepared to rush its side through quickly.

The defense will introduce about thirty witnesses, mainly expert and medical, endeavoring to prove the defendant not guilty. A large amount of testimony will also be given to prove the defendant's former good character. This will be given by the neighbors who lived near the prisoner when she resided in Washington county, Pennsylvania.

Both sides are determined and are equally confident of winning the case. The most unusual thing about the counsel is the fact that all the lawyers on both sides are Wellsburgers.

Spring medicine and Hood's Sarsaparilla are synonymous terms, so popular is this great medicine at this season. 13

Rheumatism Quickly Cured.

Three days is a very short time in which to cure a bad case of rheumatism, but it can be done if the proper treatment is adopted, as will be seen by the following from James Lambert, of New Brunswick, Ill.: "I was badly afflicted with rheumatism in the hips and legs, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It cured me in three days. I am all right to-day, and would insist on everyone who is afflicted with that terrible disease to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm and get well at once." 50-cent bottles for sale by druggists. DAW
